1. Background. Reference (a) governs the actions of every member of the Armed Forces during peacetime or combat. It demands high standards. To ensure the achievement of these standards, members of the Armed Forces are trained in the proper procedures when isolated, detained, surrounded, or cut off.

a. Strong, effective leadership, group loyalties, and esprit de corps must be fostered by every means. Each individual must be fully instructed in proper conduct and courses of action when faced with detention, capture, or as a prisoner of war.

b. Individuals liable to detention or capture must be provided with training designed to enable them to cope with exploitation efforts. All must learn the methods by which exploitation can be resisted or avoided. The Executive Agent for Secretary of Defense (SECDEF) Code of Conduct training is the Joint Personnel Recovery Agency (JPRA), who oversees all Code of Conduct training within the Department of Defense (DOD).

c. Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape (SERE) Instructor duty is physically and mentally challenging.

d. SERE duty locations are
